DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 18-22, drawn to a method of scaring animals, classified in class 43, subclass 1.
- II. Claims 1-17, drawn to an animal scaring device (kite), classified in class 244, subclass 154.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case invention I may be any shape, not just a predatory bird shape, and also the device may be used as a kite and flown for amusement of people behind a moving vehicle such as a boat or automobile.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3643

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Note: if invention II of the above is chosen, the following restriction also applies.

III. Claims 4-17, drawn to an animal scaring device (kite) without a reel, classified in class 244, subclass 153R.

IV. Claims 1-3, drawn to an animal scaring device (kite) having a reel, classified in class 244, subclass 155R.

7. Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the reel of the invention IV is not needed as evidenced by the dependent claim bringing the reel into the scope of the claims and the fact that the device may be flown from a pole as a weather vane. The subcombination has separate utility such as being flown for the amusement of people from the rear of a moving automobile or boat.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

10. Note: further if the combination (invention III) is chosen from the above, the following election of species must be chosen from as well.

11. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- a. Species A: the curved sides (from claim 9)
- b. Species B: the straight sides (from claim 10)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

NOTE: a proper reply will elect something that looks like this for example:
"apparatus (invention II), combination (invention III) and Species A (curved sides) are elected".
